

ABSTRACT

A shared communication presence information identifies the communications presence of a member of a communications circle. Upon determining the communications presence of a member of the communications circle, that member can be immediately contacted through an activated contact device associated with the member.